THE COMMON COUNCIL - 1975

In the year 1975, the Common Council addressed itself to every dimension involving the welfare of the community.

The legislation that was introduced, discussed, voted upon, and passed showed a concerned Council - A Council that engaged in extensive soul searching during long debates and discussions - a Council with excellent attendance, a Council that provided itself (and the public) every opportunity to exercise a voice through the media of:

- Legal Public Hearings
- Special Hearings
- Committee Meetings
- Regular Council Sessions
- Special Sessions

The Council throughout the year extended itself - it exposed itself - often when it was not required to do so.

Activity was conducted in the spirit of openness and independence.

The legislation that was enacted showed a sensitive Council - sensitive to the needs and the expectations of people. Such expectations being so much greater than in past years. Expectations that will only increase in the future.

Legislation Passed Provided For:

- The Physical Upgrading Of The City
- Enhancement Of The Community Spirit
- An Increase In Economic Growth
- A Recognition Of Human Needs

The physical upgrading of the City was achieved through capital improvement programs centering around Public Works Projects such as:

- Neighborhood Improvement Packages
- Major Street Reconstruction
- Other Arterial Street Improvements
- Extensive Street Lighting
- Curbs and Sidewalks
- W.P.C. Plant Expansion

Enhancement of the Community spirit was exemplified by Council's support of Community ~~developed~~ with such projects as:

development

- Neighborhood Care
- Homestead Program
- Housing Assistance

Ordinances and Resolutions authorizing the issuance and sale of Economic Development revenue bonds gave testimony of Council's desire to strengthen Economic Growth.

The Council recognized human needs also and passed legislation pertinent to the establishment of a Senior Citizens Center.

The Council further approved a budget to provide for the increased safety of the community by an expanded police force and expanded EMS Facilities. Human needs were further considered with the approval of several parks and tot lots and several Human Service Programs.

But the role of the Council was not restricted to the legislative process of Tuesday night activity only.

Collectively and individually there is much more to the modern day Council person's life than the processing of Ordinances and Resolutions.

In 1975, perhaps more than in any other previous year, the Council was involved in the affairs of this community deeply. The Council involved itself in "The Total System".

In "The Total System" Council's concerns revolved around 3 fundamental elements:

- a) Communication with people on a grass roots basis
- b) Coordination with all arms of City Government
- c) A resulting liaison involving the Council (or Council persons), the constituency and the Administration.

In other words in "The Total System" there was a bringing together of people with their Government.

I think the Council achieved a significant penetration into "The Total System" as exemplified by the work it did as a body and by the progress that Council persons achieved individually.

As we look at the year, we see many pursuits.

--We see Council collectively and individually in close contact with staff departments of the administration, such as the Board of Works and Community Development.

--We see Council in more active communication with other City and County Departments - again as individuals and as a unit.

--We see Council members involved in the formation and propagation of neighborhood associations.

- We see Council members acting as follow-up and liaison between constituency and departments.
- We see a Council person dedicating herself to the planning Commission and achieving the presidency of that body.
- We see a Council person vigorously pursuing the problems of the consumer.
- We see Council persons developing the frame work for legislation involving:
 - The Homestead Program
 - Morality
 - And other issues

We have seen an aggressive Council - both as a group and as individuals. Council persons seem to have their own "Bag" these days.

Truly the Council's sphere of activity increased significantly in 1975. It is Believed that Council's role will increase more so in the year ahead.
